Dear Ashley Zoey,

I hope you received my short writing about the Conference.

Also I accept your request to be a member of your freshly organized Advisory Board. I think we could give ideas and help organize valuable conferences or other occasions.

My short biography is at your disposal already. But I enclose a more detailed one.

As you already know I am not a physician, rather engineer and mathematician, especially worked on Computer Science, mainly networking and operating systems. As I getting older I turned to how to teach and make easier to understand the mathematics and the computer. Especially the problems aroused by the digital technology as it covers every side of our life, what we call Digital Age. The Artificial Intelligence, the Robotics together with the unceasing developing creates many dangers for our life. My newest research field is to enlighten the problems and find secure solutions.

With regards

Peter Gyarmati
